Immigration
Lilliana Mendoza
Lilliana, a mother of three children, came to the US as an undocumented child, with her mother. She is now a citizen and very active in her community. She is with JOLT, an immigrant rights organization. She has spoken to many civic groups around Austin explaining the process and problems facing immigrants trying to become documented and citizens. She has been especially active with DACA recipients.

We have recently enjoyed two adventures. On May 25th, we explored some Asian culture at a large supermarket and ate at Japanese restaurant named Kula which featured a revolving sushi counter. We selected our food as it floated past us on a conveyer belt. We didn’t know what we were eating but we enjoyed it. On June 1st we did a twilight stroll with dinner at Gloria’s. The group of 16 energetic seniors have declared this is one of their favorite spots in downtown Austin. We explored the historic building near the Capitol known as the “Old Bakery and Emporium. This city of Austin project features senior craft items on consignment.

June 3rd is the date CapMetro is introducing new bus routes. Between June 3rd and June 9th all bus rides are free so that residents can become familiar with new routes. I have tried to research some new adventures but until the route changes are implemented I can’t give you locations and dates. We will try to do two Rolls in June. One adventure will be to the Ransom Center exhibit on “Vaudeville”. This exhibit closes on July 15. It features documents of Harry Houdini, Tony Pastor and Flo Ziegfeld. I’m also researching an adventure that will take us to an early dinner at the Scholz Beer Garden, one of Austin’s most historic buildings. They serve great German food. I will send out an email as soon as I have confirmed dates and routes. I always welcome your suggestions on upcoming events.

June refreshments will be provided by members whose last names begin E - H. Anyone else may bring refreshments also. Lately we have been having large crowds at our meetings and your participation in providing snacks is appreciated. Thank you. Al Prewitt, Hospitality Chairman

Barbara Newman

Barbara Newman, our chapter president in 2006, died May 18, 2018. Her obituary is at:

http://www.harrellfuneralhomes.com/obituaries/Barbara-Newman-5/#/Obituary

MYTH: Your hearing loss was caused by all those rock concerts years ago.
TRUTH: They did not help, but there are many contributors.

- Normal aging process (45% of seniors 60 to 69 have some hearing loss, and 75% over 70 do).
- Genetics
- Medications
- Smoking
- Poor diet
- Diabetes

The above cause destruction of hair cells in the inner ear. These cells relay auditory signals to the brain. They become permanently damaged.

MYTH: If other people would just talk louder, you would hear just fine.
TRUTH: Hearing is like the body's biological microphone. You can ask other people to talk much louder but there can be a level of distortion, just like a poor microphone. Today's hearing aids can make sounds louder while reducing background noises.

Collection for Ronald McDonald House
Rita Furbish requested that our chapter collect pull tabs to donate to Ronald McDonald House in Austin.
Here is information from the website: https://rmhc-ctx.org/get-involved/other-ways-to-help/
Over the years supporters have collected millions of aluminum pull tabs (also known as pop tabs) to support their programs. They simply recycle them for the cost of the aluminum. Bring your pull tabs to the June and July meetings.

The last page of the newsletter is information on dangers from summer heat shared with us by our May speakers from the Adult Protective Services.
According to the Centers for Disease Control, hundreds of people across the United States die and millions are at risk of getting sick every year from heat-related illnesses. Most of these occurrences are preventable if only people understood more about the dangers of heat and dehydration, especially in vulnerable populations.

Protecting adults who are elderly or have disabilities from summer heat is everybody's business. If you know a vulnerable adult who is in danger due to the heat, contact the Texas Abuse Hotline at 1-800-252-5400 or report the incident online at https://www.txabusehotline.org. If you believe it is a life-threatening emergency, dial 911.

Heat Related Illness

Heat related medical conditions include heat stroke, heat exhaustion, heat cramps, sunburn, and heat rash.

Heat exhaustion occurs when a body has lost a lot of its fluids through sweating, and, as a result, the body overheats. Signs include heavy sweating, pale complexion, muscle cramps, tiredness, weakness, dizziness, headache, nausea, vomiting, fainting, skin may be cool and moist, fast and weak pulse, fast and shallow breathing.

If untreated, heat exhaustion may progress to heat stroke, which is a life threatening medical condition that can result in damage to the brain and other organs.

Of all people who die of heat stroke, about 80 percent are age 50 or older. Deaths attributed to diabetes, lung disease, and hypertension increase more than 50 percent during heat waves. Heat stroke occurs 12 to 13 times more frequently in people age 65 and older than in younger persons.

Elderly people are more susceptible to heat exhaustion and heat stroke because they:

- begin to sweat at higher body temperatures and less effectively than younger people – their sweat glands do not function as well;
- are more likely to have medical conditions that upset normal body responses to heat. These include any thyroid diseases, high blood pressure, heart/circulatory problems, and chronic illnesses such as lupus;
- are more likely to take medications that cause mouth dryness, increase sensitivity to the sun, change ability to reason, or impair the body's ability to regulate temperature or perspire. These include diuretics, antibiotics, antidepressants, anti-psychotics, non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs, sedatives, and antihistamines;
- and are more susceptible to other risk factors such as mental illness, alcoholism, impaired self-care ability, and unavailability of air conditioning.

What You Can Do If You Are An Adult Who Is Elderly Or Has Disabilities:

- If possible, stay in an air-conditioned area, either at home or in a public place such as a mall, library, or recreation center. If air conditioning is not available, pull shades over the windows and use cross-ventilation and fans to cool rooms.
- Drink plenty of fluids, but avoid drinks with alcohol, caffeine, or a lot of sugar. Don't wait until you are thirsty.
- Start drinking fluids at least 30 minutes before going out.
- Plan strenuous outdoor activity for early morning or evening when the temperature is lower.
- Take frequent breaks when working outside.
- Wear sunscreen SPF 15 or higher, wide-brimmed hats, and light-colored, loose-fitting clothes.
- Eat more frequently, but be sure meals are well balanced, cool, and light.

What You Can Do to Help Protect Adults Who Are Elderly or Have Disabilities:

- Visit them at least twice a day and watch them for signs of heat exhaustion or heat stroke.
- Take them to air-conditioned locations if they have transportation problems.
- Make sure they have access to an electric fan whenever possible.
- Many APS offices have organized resource rooms to distribute items to the elderly such as donated fans. To find out how you can help, contact the DFPS Volunteer Services Coordinator nearest you – a list is available at www.volunteerdfps.org.
